Valentine's Day!

If you plan to help or attend any classroom party, please reach out to your child's teacher. All adults will need to check in the office and have prior permission from teacher. This helps the classrooms stay organized.

Fostering a Discover Mode Mindset

Did you know that allowing your kids to be bored will help them grow? Did you know that kids learn best from when they are allowed to take risks and make mistakes? Taking time to create a safe place for your children to play, discover and make mistakes is a great way for children to gain problem solving skills needed for adulthood. Children need time away from technology and TV. Save the date in April to learn more about how to help your children with their social emotional regulation and growth mindset. We will be providing a kit to help your family learn about this important subject together!
